Our art institutions of 70 years are being shut down. Art is being made a material of commerce, thus making it impossible that art works can be reached by all members of the society cheaply and sufficiently. With TÜSAK draft, brought to the agenda, State Theatres, Symphony Orchestras and Choruses and Ensembles that are contingent upon General Directorates of State Opera and Ballet and Fine Arts are being shut down. Artists of tens of years of experience and accumulation are being restrained from art field. Art is wanted to become income means of private companies. While qualified arts become more expensive, ticket prices are going to be astronomical. While providing for switching to art applied on order, the way of unionized and secure working in art fields are being completely destroyed. On the other hand, art activities are becoming under absolute supervision of political governments. The way for that is being paved: which art Project is to be supported and which is not to be supported will be chosen by the political government. Art can be submitted to no political government's tyranny.

Art shall be free, and its institutions autonomous. Qualified and accessible art is a universal human right which is inalienable.
